

Knowing me, knowing you

Find out about support into work.

Say what support into work you think is best.

Influencing and Informing Engage to Change is a project working in Wales.

It is working to make sure young people with a learning disability and or autism get the right support to find and keep the jobs they want.

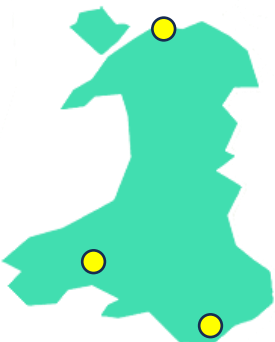

The project is running some events called “Knowing me, knowing you”.

At these “Knowing me, knowing you” events, young people, their families and organisations that support people into work will get together.

If you come to these events, you can:

- Find out what support into work is available
- Say how you would like to be supported when looking for and starting a job
- Hear what young people from the Engage to Change project have to say about taking part.

Everyone is welcome to join us at any of these free events.

Cardiff Bay, Future Inn – Tuesday 11 June 2024

Carmarthen, Halliwell Centre – Wednesday 12 June 2024

Llandudno, Venue Cymru - Monday 17 June 2024

We will give you refreshments and lunch if you come.

If you would like to come to Knowing me, Knowing you you can click on this link and fill out the form on your phone or computer.

<https://forms.office.com/e/TAiF9v58fk>

If you don't like filling out forms online you can ring Iwan or Lucy on 029 2068 1160.

Learning Disability Wales
Anabledd Dysgu Cymru

The Influencing and Informing Engage to Change project is run by Learning Disability Wales and NCMH at Cardiff University.

The Influencing and Informing Engage to Change project gets its money to work from Welsh Government and National Lottery Community Fund.

Llywodraeth Cymru
Welsh Government