About We can work it out

Our Annual Conference 2021, “We can work it out,” will look at what work, jobs and employment mean to people with a learning disability. It will be held entirely online with a series of online sessions on the theme of jobs and employment.

The series of events will look at:

- Real-life experiences
- Barriers to work
- Support into work
- Being valued
- What change is needed

We want to celebrate good work as well raising awareness of the problems many people face.

We will host 5 sessions online, one each on the points above using Zoom, Facebook Live and live streaming on Twitter to bring you short films, presentations, online workshops, quizzes and more!

Our annual conferences of the past stand out from the crowd as an example of inclusivity and accessibility. We strive to make sure our event is friendly and welcoming to all, whether you have a learning disability or not.

Many of our speakers and workshop leaders are experts by their own experiences of having a learning disability, we truly believe that everyone benefits from taking this approach.

Why Support Learning Disability Wales?

Every person with a learning disability is unique with hopes, dreams and fears. But imagine not having the control and choice in your life as other people do, facing daily challenges and prejudice. This is what many people with a learning disability experience. About 6 in every 1000 people in Wales are born with a learning disability. Most people with a learning disability are treated as 'different'. Our goal is to change this and create a Wales that values and includes every child and adult with a learning disability.

How you can benefit

Supporting our conference through sponsorship gives you the opportunity to reach and influence people and organisations in the learning disability community in Wales, it can also help you to:

- Increase your organisation's visibility
- Target organisations in this area in a cost-effective way
- Find new clients, partners, and customers
- Increase your share of the non-profit market
- Build relationships with other voluntary sector organisations
- Show your commitment to a strong non-profit sector
